SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyet's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyet's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

GERMAN BOOBY-TRAPS FOUND IN TIME

It Is Believed That the Lives of Many British Soldiers Were Saved By the Discovery—Some of the Devices Described.

London, Jan. 22 (Correspondence of Associated Press).—Detection by British army investigators of German "booby traps" saved the lives of many an officer or man of the British armies during the period when the Germans were retreating from France. "I am convinced," says one officer, "that we nipped many of the Hun's favorite plans by capturing near Bray a little factory where he made his booby traps. When we occupied it we learned much from the partly completed traps we found lying about the place."

"One of them was an iron plate. This the wily Hun dropped in a roadway so that it would likely be trod upon by soldier or horse of our advancing troops. The plate was in two parts, with a spring inside, and usually contained a detonator connected with a heavy charge of explosive. When the weight of the foot was removed, the spring sprang into place and exploded the detonator, and the damage was done."

"These spring detonators were the German's specialty. They consisted of a tube containing a little spring with a hook at one end. Attached to the hook was a string or wire connecting with the explosive charge. Any arrangement by which the spring could be distended and then suddenly contracted served to jerk the string, and the charge was exploded. "One night I received a call from our lieutenant colonel who had spent the day directing movements from a recently captured German dugout. He told me he was nervous, and believed he was associating with a 'booby,' and asked me to send him a squad of engineers to look it over. I went myself."

"The colonel sat in the dugout, about 10 feet down, on a chair by a table. Directly in front of the chair was a petrol can and it was the can he feared. He had noticed it early in the morning when the dugout was first occupied, but had been so busy during the day he had had no time to examine it until evening. Then he found nothing, but he had 'hunch' that it was a trap and wanted expert assistance."

"I dug a little trench around the can, but could find no wires, and then tapped it, but received no sound other than that which might come from any old empty can. There was nothing to do but open it, and, borrowing the colonel's can opener I went at it as gingerly as I could. "It was partly filled with about eight pounds of one of the most deadly powder explosives known to science. This I removed very carefully, and in the bottom of the can found the spring detonator. It had been fastened to the bottom of the can in such a way that if the can had been lifted from the floor of the dugout the charge would have exploded and the colonel and his party would have been blown to bits."

"The colonel paled a little when I showed him just what he had been associating with all day, and very fervently thanked himself for obeying his 'hunch' to let that can alone."

WAS BOUND TO FIGHT.

Col. Charles M. Macnaughten Got Into Ranks as a Private.

London, Jan. 22 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—The story of a colonel of Australian infantry who was wounded in the Gallipoli campaign and sent back to Australia but who concealed his rank and re-enlisted as a private to serve with the Australians in France, has added to the esteem in which Australians are held in London. Colonel Charles Melville Macnaughten, the hero of the story, is hailed as a man of gallantry and grit. He was the son of Sir Melville Macnaughten, chief of the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard, says the Daily Mail, and was practicing law in Australia when the war began. He was the major in command of the 1st brigade, which landed at Anzac Cove on Gallipoli peninsula. Within two days he was wounded three times. After recovery in England he returned to Gallipoli and led his battalion in their immortal charge at Lone Pine.

After the evacuation of Gallipoli he served for a time in Egypt and was sent from there to England suffering from wounds and fever. Surgeons refused him permission to return to active service and he was sent to Australia as second in command of an Australian training camp.

One day he slipped away from the camp and joined a replacement battalion in Queensland under the name of Charles Melville and soon afterward was back in England training on Salisbury Plain as Private Melville. He was quickly promoted to be corporal and one day was asked by his commanding officer, "corporal do you think you could drill this company?" Having commanded a brigade, the corporal put the company through its paces like the veteran he was.

Back in France again he was recognized by officers who had known him in Gallipoli as the daring and brilliant soldier they had called "fighting Mac." General Birdwood, with whom he had served at Lone Pine, sent for him and gave him a commission. Not long afterwards Col. Macnaughten was again sent as an invalid to England, where he was summoned to Buckingham palace to receive from the king a decoration as a companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which had been conferred upon him several years before for his gallantry at Gallipoli. While serving in the ranks in France as "Corporal Melville," he had been personally congratulated by the commanding general for valor at Messines Ridge.

Macnaughten's fighting days are now over and he is compelled to recognize this fact for, as one of his men put it, "he is riddled like a colander and it is only his fighting spirit which keeps him alive."

FORMER KING MANUEL NOT IN MOVEMENT

He Has Not Given Support to the Monarchist Movement in Portugal and Has Remained Out of Politics.

London, Jan. 22.—Portugal's monarchist revolution was begun and is being carried on without the support of former King Manuel, according to Marquis De Soveral, former Portuguese minister to Great Britain. In an interview with the Mail, the marquis says: "Manuel has done nothing to support or encourage the monarchist movement in Portugal. Throughout the war he abstained entirely from politics and has asked all his followers to support whatever government was in power in Portugal."

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

Buy As Our Men Fought!

Our men and the soldiers of our allies have been fighting not just for victory, but to uphold ideals, to keep alive the "best" in this world.

In their program waste was inexcusable; carelessness criminal. If we buy as they fought, we must avoid careless, wasteful buying; and buy only what is good and what is guaranteed to serve long.

In clothes buying that means good tailoring; all-wool fabrics, fast dyes; good styles. It means such clothes as Hart Schaffner & Marx make. We guarantee them.

This Can't Happen with the VESTA BATTERY

The battery condition shown here happens with every other battery but the Vesta. The illustration shows the wooden mats broken down—the plates touching. Short circuits result—the battery is killed. But this can't happen with the Vesta—the plates are locked apart by Vesta Indestructible Isolators. The construction and the advantages of these Isolators will be explained to you at any Vesta Service Station. This remarkable invention gives the Vesta doubled life and has placed the Vesta above all other storage batteries.

The materials used in most storage batteries are the same. Any manufacturer can buy the best antimony, lead oxides, tested rubber jars and hardwood battery boxes. Most manufacturers do. But, materials alone do not make the battery. The secret of a good battery lies inside the battery itself, in the inside unseen construction. The top quality materials used in Vesta Batteries can be duplicated. They are duplicated. But, Vesta Experience and Vesta Patented Improvements cannot be duplicated. Vesta Experience in the manufacture of automobile batteries extends over a period of 18 years.

FOUR GREAT VESTA TRIUMPHS
The three great improvements in battery making are: Indestructible Isolators, Impregnated Mats, Poro-Hard Plates, and the use of Titanium. All of these improvements are covered by U. S. basic patents and can be used by no other battery manufacturer but Vesta. All makes of batteries recharged and repaired. Call in before buying your new battery and examine the Vesta.
